The future of Air Traffic Management in Europe and the role of the air traffic controller.

PARTICIPANTS

Joe Sultana, Director Network Management. EUROCONTROL.

EUROCONTROL is an intergovernmental organisation with 41 Members and 2 Comprehensive Agreement States. EUROCONTROL is committed to building, together with its partners, a Single European Sky that will deliver the air traffic management (ATM) performance required for the twenty-first century and beyond. Over 1,900 highly qualified professionals spread over four European countries work at EUROCONTROL, deploying their expertise to address ATM challenges.

Jon Round, Head of Airspace, ATM & Aerodromes. Civil Aviation Authority.

The CAA is a public corporation, established by Parliament in 1972 as an independent specialist aviation regulator. As the UK's specialist aviation regulator, the CAA works so that:

- the aviation industry meets the highest safety standards,
- consumers have choice, value for money, are protected and treated fairly when they fly,
- through efficient use of airspace, the environmental impact of aviation on local communities is effectively managed and CO2 emissions are reduced,
- the aviation industry manages security risks effectively.

Juliet Kennedy, Operations Director. NATS.

NATS is the UK's leading provider of air traffic control services and handles over 2.5 million flights and 250 million passengers each year from our centres at Swanwick and Prestwick. NATS provides services to 16 UK airports, manages the en route airspace in the UK, the complex London Terminal airspace and controls the airspace over the eastern half of the North Atlantic. In addition, NATS provides services around the world spanning Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

Jesús Antonio García, Head of Department Airport ATM Operations Management. ENAIRE.

ENAIRE is the leading air navigation and aeronautical information service provider in Spain, the fourth largest in Europe by traffic volume and one of the most important in the world. As a public business entity reporting to the Ministry of Public Works, ENAIRE manages the Spanish airspace over a territory of 2.19 MN square kilometres. ENAIRE provides air traffic services to 2 million flights carrying over 250 million passengers each year.

Moderator: Luis Barbero, President and CEO. GATCO.

GATCO is a professional body which represents the professional interests and opinions of those in the air traffic management profession. Membership is open to civil or military air traffic controllers, flight information service officers, aerospace battle managers (weapons) and anyone involved in the air traffic management support including non operational positions.
